

Job advertisement reference number 01/2026

At the Faculty of Catholic Theology of the University of Erfurt, the following professorship is available as of 1 April 2027:

W2 professorship with advanced tenure track to W3 in Exegesis and Theology of the Old Testament (f/m/x)

Re-founded in 1994 as a reform university, the University of Erfurt considers itself as a research-oriented university that is highly committed to international cooperation as well as innovation in teaching and learning, with a special focus on teacher-training programs. With its strong profile in the humanities, cultural studies as well as social sciences and education, it is a cosmopolitan place for academic debate on key social and cultural challenges.

The Faculty of Catholic Theology stands for theology with an ecumenical, interreligious, and interdisciplinary orientation. Particularly in the context of Central and Eastern Germany, Erfurt theology faces up to the challenges of the secular world and the current transformation processes in a culturally sensitive manner that is compatible with other academic disciplines.

Area of Responsibility

The position holder is responsible for the subject of Exegesis and Theology of the Old Testament in its relevant breadth in research and teaching.

- The professor participates in the teaching of all study programs offered by the Faculty of Catholic Theology, including those for continuous education, and in academic self-governance.
- The professor cooperates in research and teaching with other faculties and institutions of the university, in particular within the university's research focal area of "Religion. Society. Relationship to the World" and/or "Knowledge, Spaces, and Media".
- The professor actively engages within the framework of the strategy for internationalization of the University of Erfurt.

In addition, the tasks are specified in Section 83 of the Thuringian Higher Education Act (ThürHG).

What we expect

In addition to the general requirements under civil service law, the employment requirements pursuant to Section 84 ThürHG must be fulfilled. These include in particular:

- a successfully completed academic study of Catholic theology ("Diplom", Magister Theologiae, or equivalent degree)
- pedagogical competence
- the special qualification to engage in academic research, which is usually proven by way of a doctorate in Catholic theology
- additional academic achievements in the field of the advertised professorship. These additional academic achievements are demonstrated by a habilitation in Exegesis and Theology of the Old Testament or through equivalent academic achievements, for example in the context of a junior professorship.

Furthermore, the provisions of the concordat between the Holy See and the Free State of Thuringia of 19 November 2002 apply.

In addition, the following are expected:

- well founded knowledge and experience in university education and its didactics, which is documented by certificates for higher education and/or evaluations
- participation in quality control and development of study programs of the faculty
- experience in academic self-governance
- International experience in teaching and/or research as well as necessary skills to initiate new international cooperations for the faculty and the university
- the acquisition of external funding
- ability and willingness to network with the other academic subjects at the University of Erfurt
- ability and willingness to take into account the situation in the secular society in research and teaching and to represent a theology capable of pluralism
- Applicants are expected to have proficiency in German of at least B2 level according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
- good knowledge of German at B2 level in spoken and written language use (In addition, the competence level of the successful applicant is expected to be at least C1 after three years.)

What we offer

The University of Erfurt has been audited as a "family-friendly university". It promotes the compatibility of career and family/private life and supports dual-career options. For academic managers, it offers various further training opportunities as well as individual coaching and mentoring as part of academic personnel development (www.uni-erfurt.de/go/akademische-pke). There are also a number of health and prevention programs as part of occupational health management.

Comments/Remarks

The German version of this job advertisement alone shall be legally binding.

Advanced Tenure Track professors are appointed to a fixed term W2 professorship initially for 3 years. The tenure evaluation takes place in the final year of fixed-term employment. If the tenure evaluation is positive, the candidate is appointed to a permanent W3 professorship and thus continues to be employed on a permanent basis.

Further details are regulated by the University of Erfurt's statutes on the appointment of professorships in the tenure track and career track programmes at the University of Erfurt (Tenure and Career Track Statutes) as of 18 June 2024.

The University of Erfurt sees itself as an open-minded employer that values diversity. It is committed to diversity and gender equality and welcomes applications that contribute to this. The University of Erfurt has successfully completed the "shaping diversity" audit and regularly participates successfully in the female professor programme of the federal and state governments. One of the university's strategic goals is increasing the proportion of women in research and teaching. Qualified female scientists are therefore particularly encouraged to apply. Severely disabled persons and those with equal status are given preference in the case of equal suitability, professional performance, and ability. It should be noted that even in the case of a repeated application or previous employment at the University of Erfurt, explicit reference must be made to the severe disability or equal status in the application, as this information is not automatically taken into account in the present procedure for data protection and organizational reasons.

The University expects the candidate to be willing to relocate to the University or its vicinity. Participation in the interdisciplinary and partly English-language teaching program including Studium Fundamentale is expected.

Part-time employment is possible in principle. The extent to which a part-time request can be met, particularly with regard to the location and scope of the part-time work, must be examined on a case-by-case basis.
